

TRANSPORT DEVELOPMENT MANAGEMENT 2012

The IHE training programme

Part 1: 13-14th March, Birmingham

Part 2: 29-30th May, Birmingham

Transport Development Management 2012

The only UK course for transport practitioners working in technical support roles within Development Management.

The course delivers learning across the wide diversity of subjects a Development Management Practitioner requires, in both the private and public fields of work, which are assessed through assignments leading to a DM Foundation Certificate.

To demonstrate competence at work, a further report and interview leads to the IHE Professional Certificate and MIHE.

Students attend two residential sessions of two days each and complete four assignments, each of which demands around three days preparation at work or in their own time. Line managers are expected to mentor and support their staff.
