Asset Management

IHIE announces a unique professional training programme in Asset Management.

Organised in conjunction with the industry's foremost expert, Paul Hardy of exp consulting, the programme offers an introductory course for newcomers, a six day residential training course for asset managers leading into an IHIE Professional Certificate. "This is an exciting development for highway engineers" said Steve Spender, IHIE Vice President and Highways Manager Hampshire CC. "Practitioners' knowledge will be tested on the course and their ability to perform will be tested by the Certificate. Having professional asset managers will help local authorities deliver long term value for money maintenance."

The first courses offered are at Leicester.
